The policies outlined in this document are intended to cover available technologies, not just those specifically listed.

Usage Policies

All technologies provided by South Central Calhoun CSD are intended for educational purposes. All users are expected to use good judgment and to follow the specifics of this document as well as the spirit of it: be safe, appropriate, careful and kind; don't try to get around technological protection measures; use good common sense; and ask if you don't know.

Web Access

South Central Calhoun CSD provides its users with access to the Internet, including websites, resources, content, and online tools. That access will be restricted in compliance with CIPA regulations and school policies. Web browsing may be monitored and web activity records may be retained indefinitely.

Users are expected to respect that the web filter is a safety precaution, and should not try to circumvent it when browsing the Web. If a site is blocked and a user believes it shouldn't be, the user should follow protocol to contact the classroom teacher, who will evaluate the site, and then contact IT staff for addition of the site to the Allow List—if deemed appropriate. In the same regard—this policy will also be followed for sites which should be added to the Block List.

Email

South Central Calhoun CSD may provide users with email accounts for the purpose of school-related communication. Availability and use may be restricted based on school policies.

If users are provided with email accounts, they should be used with care. Users should NOT send personal information, should NOT attempt to open files or follow links from unknown or untrusted origin; should use appropriate language; and should only communicate with other people as allowed by the district policy or the teacher.

Users are expected to communicate with the same appropriate safe, mindful, courteous conduct online as offline. Email usage may be monitored and archived.

Responsible Use of Technology & Media Policy

Introduction

South Central Calhoun CSD recognizes that access to technology in school gives students and teachers greater opportunities to learn, engage, communicate, and develop skills that will prepare them for work, life, and citizenship. We are committed to helping students develop 21st-century technology and communication skills.

Students in our classes will be expected to use the Internet, including specific online technology. All schools are required to meet Federal and State requirements in the area of technology literacy. Teachers supervising these class projects will oversee sites used or selected by themselves and students to make sure they comply with the Children's Online Privacy Protection Act (COPPA), and that they are of educational value for the students. Parents give permission to teachers to act on their behalf for the purposes of these projects, and to allow their students to give personal information—only when appropriate. Questions or concerns around specific Internet site usage should be directed to building administration.

To that end, we provide access to technologies for student and staff use. This Responsible Use Policy outlines the guidelines and behaviors that users are expected to follow when using school technologies and/or accounts (on and off site) or when using personally-owned devices on the school campuses.

- The network is intended for educational purposes.
- All activity over the network or using the district technologies may be monitored and retained.
- Access to online content via the network may be restricted in accordance with our policies and federal regulations, such as the Children Internet Protection Act (CIPA).
- Students are expected to follow the same rules for good behavior and respectful conduct online as offline.
- Misuse of school resources can result in disciplinary action.
- We make a reasonable effort to ensure students' safety and security online, but will not be held accountable for any harm or damages that result from misuse of school technologies.
- Users of the network or other technologies are expected to alert teachers and/or building administrators immediately of any concerns for safety or security.

Email

South Central Calhoun CSD may provide users with email accounts for the purpose of school-related communication. Availability and use may be restricted based on school policies.

If users are provided with email accounts, they should be used with care. Users should NOT send personal information, should NOT attempt to open files or follow links from unknown or untrusted origin; should use appropriate language; and should only communicate with other people as allowed by the district policy or the teacher.

Users are expected to communicate with the same appropriate safe, mindful, courteous conduct online as offline. Email usage may be monitored and archived.

Social/Web 2.0/Collaborative Content

Recognizing that collaboration is essential to education, South Central Calhoun CSD may provide users with access to web sites or tools that allow communication, collaboration, sharing, and messaging among users.

Users are expected to communicate with the same appropriate, safe, mindful, courteous conduct online as offline. Posts, chats, sharing, and messaging may be monitored.

Mobile Device Policy

South Central Calhoun CSD may provide users with mobile computers or other devices to promote learning both inside and outside the classroom. Users should abide by the same acceptable use policies when using school devices off the school network as on the school network.

Users are expected to treat these devices with extreme care and caution; these are expensive devices that the school is entrusting to your care. Users should report any loss, damage, or malfunction to school administration or IT staff immediately. Users may be financially accountable for any damage resulting from negligence or misuse.

Use of school-issued mobile devices, including use of the school network, may be monitored.

Personally-Owned Devices

Students may use personally-owned devices (provided the device has adequate virus protection—if applicable) during school hours—provided use of such device does not violate student handbook policies and unless such use interferes with the delivery of instruction by a teacher or staff or creates a disturbance in the educational environment. Gaming devices, as such, are not educational devices and should not be used in the classroom. Any misuse of personally-owned devices may result in disciplinary action. Therefore, proper netiquette and adherence to the Responsible Use Policy should always be used.

Security

Users are expected to take reasonable safeguards against the transmission of security threats over the school network. This includes not opening or distributing infected files or programs and not opening files or programs of unknown or untrusted origin. If you believe a computer or mobile device you are using might be infected with a virus, please contact the IT department.

Downloads

Users should not download or attempt to download or run .exe programs of the school network or onto school resources without express permission from IT staff. You may be able to download other file types, such as images or videos. For the security of our network, download such files only from reputable sites, and only for educational purposes.

Netiquette

Users should always use the Internet, network resources, and online sites in a courteous and respectful manner.

Users should also recognize that among the valuable content online is unverified, incorrect, or inappropriate content. Users should use trusted sources when conducting research via the Internet.

Users should also remember not to post anything online that they wouldn't want parents, teachers, or future colleges or employers to see. Once something is online, it's out there—and can sometimes be shared and spread in ways you never intended.

Plagiarism & Cheating

Users should not plagiarize (or use as their own, without citing the original creator) content, including words, or images, from the Internet.

Users should not take credit for things they didn't create themselves, or misrepresent themselves as an author or creator of something found online. Research conducted via the Internet should be appropriately cited, giving credit to the original author.

Students should reference the student handbook regarding copying work from the internet or other students. Submitting work of this type may likely violate two policies—good conduct violation (as per handbook) and the Responsible Use Policy.

Personal Safety

If you see a message, comment, image or anything else online that makes you concerned for your personal safety, bring it to the attention of an adult (teacher or staff if you're at school; parent if you're using the device at home) immediately.

Users should never share personal information, including phone number, address, social security number, birthday, or financial information, over the Internet without adult permission.

Users should recognize that communicating over the Internet brings anonymity and associated risks, and should carefully safeguard the personal information of themselves and others.

Users should never agree to meet someone they meet online in real life without parental permission.

Cyberbullying

Cyberbullying will not be tolerated. Harassing, dissing, flaming, denigrating, impersonating, outing, tracking, excluding and cyberstalking are all examples of cyberbullying. Don't be mean. Don't send emails or post comments with the intent of scaring, hurting, or intimidating someone else.

Engaging in these behaviors or any online activities intended to harm (physically or emotionally) another person, will result in severe disciplinary action and loss of privileges. In some cases, cyberbullying can be a crime. Remember that your activities are monitored and retained.
